

e

ə

THE ETHICS OF PSYCHOANALYSIS
AND THE OTHERS

CULTURE

This is our Brazil:

With continental dimensions, the country is shaped by natural and human diversity. Its history begins with Indigenous peoples, the first inhabitants of the territory, and is transformed by African heritage and migrations from Europe and other parts of the world. Divided into five regions – North, Northeast, Central-West, Southeast, and South – it brings together forests, rivers, savanna (cerrado), cities, and multiple cultures. Plural, vibrant, and contrasting, Brazil is a mosaic of landscapes, accents, and ways of life.

23-26 JUL 2026

XIII° MEETING OF THE IF-EPFCL
IX° INTERNATIONAL MEETING OF THE SCHOOL
SÃO PAULO - BRAZIL

e

ə

THE ETHICS OF PSYCHOANALYSIS
AND THE OTHERS

THAT'S BRAZIL

Brazil's territory is divided into five regions. The North Region is home to vast forests, giant rivers, and the greatest biodiversity on the planet. The Northeast is famous for its sunshine, beaches, the sertão, vibrant rhythms, and the striking flavors of its cuisine. The Center-West features the Cerrado and the Pantanal, along with a strong presence of agribusiness. The Southeast brings together large cities, intense industrial activity, cultural production, and great economic diversity. The South, in turn, is known for its cooler climate, green landscapes, and the influence of European immigration.

23-26 JUL 2026

XIII° MEETING OF THE IF-EPFCL
IX° INTERNATIONAL MEETING OF THE SCHOOL
SÃO PAULO - BRAZIL

